RSV Clinics Now Open!

Jordan Valley Medical Center and Pioneer Valley Hospital's RSV Clinics are ready to take care of your patients!

When infants are treated early, in most cases, we are able to keep them and their families out of the emergency department. In some cases it also prevents an admission to the hospital.

RSV is a common virus. In most people RSV causes a mild illness such as a cold. However, RSV can make some newborns and young children very sick. RSV spreads easily from person to person, by contact or when someone coughs or sneezes. Health teaching is a key component in the RSV clinic setting to promote the prevention and spreading of the Respiratory Virus. The first signs of RSV are runny nose, fever and sneezing. The more serious signs are a bad cough, trouble breathing and fast breathing.

To be seen at Jordan Valley Medical Center or Pioneer Valley Hospital's RSV Clinic, patients must obtain a referral from their physician. Once a patient has this referral, they will check in as an outpatient through the hospital's admission department. A Respiratory Therapist will then escort the patient and family to our RSV Outpatient clinic for treatment.

Treatment in the clinic normally takes less than one hour and includes a patient assessment, intervention with suctioning and/or medications and then a re-assessment. Parents can return to the clinic as often as needed while their child is sick.

The RSV clinic is open 7 days a week, 24 hours a day. The Clinics are not for emergencies. If your child needs to be seen urgently, please contact your family doctor, or go to your local emergency department.
